DETAILED ACTION

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: In line 1 of paragraphs 0006 and 0022, it is not clear in what sense figure 1 is a photograph. In paragraph 0035, line 1, "8C" should read --8D--.

The drawings are objected to because in the penultimate line of paragraph 0026, reference numeral "85" is not shown in the drawings. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "snap" between the protective covering and the locking head of claims 7 and 15 (see paragraph 0035, line 11 of the specification), as well as the "interference fit" of claims 9 and 17 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

The specification is objected to as failing to provide proper antecedent basis for the claimed subject matter. See 37 CFR 1.75(d)(1) and MPEP § 608.01(o). Correction of the following is required: The written description must provide support for the "flush" limitation of claim 8, line 2 and claim 17, line 9.

Art Unit: 3676

Claim 12 is objected to because of the following informalities: In claim 12, line 1, "1" should apparently be replaced with --10--. Appropriate correction is required.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-7, 9-15 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Heald (029).

Heald teaches a receiver lock including a padlock body having a key-operated locking mechanism 26, therein a shaft (a straight leg of the shackle 28), a protective covering as seen in figs. 4 and 9, wherein the protective covering snaps onto the locking head padlock body when bead 50 of a protective cap in figure 2 snaps into the groove 56.

The U-shaped top portion of the shackle 28 is regarded both as a stop member end cap and a bent end of the shaft which may prevent further insertion of a straight leg of the shackle into the locking head. The shackle leg is received with an interference fit into the protective covering as seen in fig. 8. The protective covering 58 is also made of an elastomeric material as set forth in column 3, line 20.

Claims 1, 3, 5-10, 12 and 14-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Wyers (255).

Art Unit: 3676

Wyers teaches a receiver lock including a locking head 40 in figs. 9-11 having a key-operated locking mechanism therein, a shaft 20 having a stop member end cap 22, 34 at one end and a second end of the shaft received with a sealing interference fit at 88 in a protective covering 82, a protective cap 92 attachable to an end of the protective covering. In fig. 10, the engagement of the flange 84 over the locking head 40 is regarded as a snap fit. With respect to claims 8 and 16, the portion 84 of the covering 82 is regarded as flush with a cylindrical surface of the locking head 40.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wyers (255) in view of Wyers (832).

In fig. 19, Wyers (832) teaches a bent end of a shaft 426, 428. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to substitute a bent end of a shaft for the end cap 22, 34 of Wyers (255), in view of the teaching of Wyers (832), the motivation being to simplify the formation of an end cap stop portion.

Claims 2 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wyers (255) in view of Heald (029).

Heald teaches an elastomeric material as set forth above. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to substitute an elastomeric material for the material of Wyers (255), in view of the teaching of Heald, the motivation being to optimize its sealing capability.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
